

THE CITY MOURNS

TRIBUTE OF RESPECT TO MEMORY OF MISS MESSENGER.

WAS AN UNSELFISH LIFE

A Life Lived For Others, Said Rev. Hale—Funeral Services at First Baptist Church.

The funeral services for Miss Marcia Messenger were held Tuesday afternoon at the First Baptist church and were largely attended. Nearly all of the business stores closed during the hour of the service as a tribute of respect to the deceased. The list of these business stores as appeared in Tuesday's daily as closing was incomplete as a number of others suspended business during that time.

The musical part of the service was given by a quartet composed of Miss Marie Jones, Miss Hazel Everhart, G. B. Holmes and Orlo Quinn, who sang three favorite hymns of Miss Messenger's, "It is Well with My Soul," "God Will Take Care of You," and "Rock of Ages," with Miss Alice Porter as organist.

Rev. L. M. Hale, of the First Baptist church conducted the services. The ministers of the other churches in the city occupied seats on the platform with Rev. Hale.

Rev. Hale read the Twenty-third and Ninety-first Psalms, in accordance with a request of Miss Messenger made shortly before her death. He chose for the subject of his discourse the words from the 10th chapter of Luke, "She hath chosen the better part which shall not be taken away from her."

Rev. Hale said in part:

"I assure you that I have no sermon to preach this afternoon, and I know that I have no message that can in any way express to you what the life that you have known so long and so well means to you. For me to try this afternoon to express my appreciation of Miss Marcia May Messenger could be a futile effort. I have known her comparatively a few months, less than a year, and yet I feel that I have known her as well as I have ever known a friend in my life. There was something from the very first time that I met her that was different, and I remember just as I stood at that door the first Sabbath I was introduced to her as one of our sweetest girls, and I certainly have found it true through the months that I have known her. So much has been said through our papers and I have rejoiced to read what has been said. I think they have brought us great messages. They have spoken words of appreciation that I am not able to speak, and it is not my purpose to take time to make an effort to express my appreciation of a life like the one that has just recently gone out in our midst. That life has spoken for itself and I believe that there is not a man or a woman or child in this community or surrounding country that has not been influenced by the life of Miss Messenger. I look over this audience this afternoon. This audience speaks a most wonderful message. If you could just stand and look into the faces of these people. Maryville is represented here this afternoon. All of Maryville, the poorest, the richest and the humblest homes are represented here. Gathered here to pay tribute of love and respect to the memory of one whom God has taken from us. I think that the life that has been lived among us is itself a message, and if I could just strike the secret of the life and unfold it to you, I believe that it would be the most pleasing thing to Marcia May Messenger. I think she was too unselfish even for a moment to desire that I should stand here this afternoon to eulogize her. Entirely too unselfish, and that is not my purpose. I am not sure that I know the secret of the life that she has lived. I know one thing, and I know it well—that it is one of the most wonderful lives that I have ever known in my life. She was one of the most wonderful characters that I have ever met. Words just simply break down under the weight of what the life she has lived meant to this community. I wish for you pastors this afternoon that it could have been yours to have known her as I have known her. It was mine to be her pastor. Never in all my life have I been the pastor of anyone who has been such an inspiration to me as this one was. I told Mr. Price as I rode from the house to the church with him this afternoon that as I sat in my pulpit I always looked out over the audience to see if she was in the audience; if not I watched to see if Miss Messenger was coming. It seems that I could preach better when she was here. I don't know why it was. I can't explain it, but there was something about her life that for a preacher to stand before his audience to try to preach when she was in the audience, was such an inspiration that we seldom know in a person. It was the greatest joy to meet her on the street. I have watched for her. She was so busy that I felt that I would like to consult her even more than I did. She was one of the greatest counselors that I have ever known in my life. She knew every condition about Maryville and Maryville people, and when you wanted to know about some situation, condition or people you could go to Miss Messenger and came nearer getting the truth than from anyone else.

MARCIA MAY MESSENGER.

If anyone misses her more than her pastor you have my sympathy and my prayers, and yet I know there are some who will.

"I have had the feeling through all of these months that I have known her that her life was directed day by day by the principles and doctrine of Jesus Christ. Some mornings Miss Messenger would get up and would have a hard day's work before her, but she never went about her work until she had stolen some time to read some portion of God's Word to take with her. I wish you might just think of her life just as it has been lived and see if it is not in perfect harmony with the Christ life. She tried to learn of Him and to do His will. If I were to give you one word this afternoon that I think has characterized her life it would be a very common word, very common. Listen to it. That word is unselfishness. I believe if I have ever known a life in my life that has been lived for others it was the life of Marcia May Messenger. As I have watched her, as I have known her, as I have heard people speak, it seems to me that it is all unselfishness. It is the laying down of a life that has been wholly dedicated to the service of God and of this community. If there is anything in her life, as we have known it, that would in any way indicate that she was living for herself I have been unable to discover it.

"Her love was the most Christ-like, I think, of anyone that I have ever known. It was marvelous."

GUNN IS BEING HELD

In the County Jail—Funeral at Burlington Junction Thursday—Burial at Shambaugh, Ia.

Leonard W. Huddle, 26 years of age, died at his home two miles south of Burlington Junction, Tuesday evening about 7 o'clock. His death was caused from a blow received on the head while engaged in a fight with Roy Gunn last Sunday afternoon at Burlington Junction.

The two had some trouble about a year ago, when Gunn ceased to work for Huddle, and the quarrel was renewed several times. On Sunday they met again and Huddle accused Gunn of making uncomplimentary references to him. In the fight that followed Gunn struck Huddle over the head with a stool and fractured his skull.

Mr. Huddle is said to have been an industrious young farmer of good habits, and his death is generally deplored.

The funeral services will be held at the Huddle home Thursday morning at 8 o'clock, then the body will be shipped to Shambaugh, Ia., where funeral services will be held in the Mesquite church, and interment will be made in the Butler cemetery at Shambaugh in the afternoon.

M. Huddle leaves a wife and three children ranging from 6 months to four years in age; father, mother, three sisters and four brothers. His father, Noah Huddle, is a resident of Shambaugh.

Gunn is being held in the county jail pending action of Prosecuting Attorney George Pat Wright, who is attending circuit court at Gallatin. Mr. Wright will return home this evening.

When seen at the county jail this morning, Gunn said that he was very sorry that Huddle died but he refused to talk about the case.

MARCIA MESSENGER.

In the death of Marcia Messenger the community has lost one of the noblest of nature's works. Her's was a character unique in its abundance of those qualities rare in combination. Loyalty, industry, patience, gentleness, cheerfulness and unselfishness are among the qualities with which she was richly endowed.

As an employee of this paper since its organization, we learned to know her under every condition of mind. In her character there were no holidays, no gaudy decorations, no vain parades. It was the same yesterday, today and always.

Her life story might be written in two chapters, cheerfulness and unselfishness. Sustained by an unfaltering trust in her God and with an ever-increasing faith in the ultimate triumph of right and justice, she met the vicissitudes of life bravely and cheerfully, and approached death as a mere incident in the way to a larger and fuller life. Her last words were characteristic of her thought. With full knowledge that the end drew near, she looked not into the dark river in despair, but across it into the eternal city where she saw a glorious immortality and a vision of goodness, purity and everlasting, and exclaimed, "By midnight I will be in Heaven; won't that be great?"

She not only professed but lived Christianity. The spirit of selfishness, to which the world is prone, found no place in her heart. She was truly one of those who preferred "to live in a house by the side of the road and be a friend to man." There have been all too few Marcia Messengers. She builded her own monument in the hearts of men and women, for the sunshine and excellence of her life will live long after the cold marble that may be raised to mark her resting place has crumbled into dust. It may be truly said that the world, and this community in particular, is better for her having lived in it.

Wedding Anniversary.

Mrs. Bert Torrance planned a great surprise for her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Whitehurst, at their home, near Maryville, Sunday, it being their thirty-third wedding anniversary. Several of the neighbors and friends were invited to come and spend the day. They came with well filled baskets of everything possible to be had in the eatable line, cooked by some of the best cooks in the land. The surprise certainly proved to be a grand one. Her parents had not the least thought of such a thing until they noticed people coming to the home in autos, buggies and on foot, and even then they did not understand the reason for so much commotion, until the guests extended to them their heartiest congratulations of the season. The guests presented them with a combination vacuum cleaner and carpet sweeper. Their son, Dale Whitehurst, of the Whitesville Banner, presented them a victrola which he had purchased the day before at St. Joseph. Their son Claude and wife of Texas presented them a set of silverware, and their grandsons in Texas sent Mr. Whitehurst a box of cigars. Their only daughter, Mrs. Torrance, remembering that it was Mother's day, made it Mother's and Father's day, and presented them with a beautiful bouquet of carnations, fresh from the greenhouse. At the noon hour the tables were spread under the shade trees in the yard. The tables fairly groaned under their burden of good things to eat. Blessings were asked by Mr. Ambrose. Everyone ate heartily of the great variety of things which had been placed upon the tables. Music on the victrola and many other pastimes were participated in which served to make the day one of much enjoyment to all. The only thing which marred the day for the bride and groom was the absence of their son Claude and family of Texas. The poetry which follows was composed for the day by them and sent to the parents to be read on that day. The guests departed from the country home of 5 o'clock, wishing Mr. and Mrs. Whitehurst many more such anniversaries. They desponded by saying that the day had been one of the happiest for them and one which they would never forget. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Bert Torrance, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Ambrose, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Neal, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Douglas, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Coulter, Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Kidder, Mr. and Mrs. Will Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Heber Mickelson, Misses Lydia Ambrose, Silvia Coulter, Ermile Mickelson, Grace Whitehurst, Virginia Coulter, Messrs. Harry Whitehurst, John Ambrose, Dale Whitehurst, Floyd Ambrose, Rex Kidder, Delbert Ambrose, Walter Fetzer, Jessie Mickelson, Wesley Anderson, Basil Mickelson, and Harry Moyer from Maryville.

Following is the poem written in honor of the event by their son and daughter, Claude and Lucy Whitehurst of Glen Flora, Texas:

The Voicing of a Distant Longing.

We long to be with you, dear parents,
On this, your anniversary day;
But the thousand long miles intervening
Demands that we stay away.

But our hearts and our thoughts will
Be with you,
Speeding on wings of love,
To wish you a life full of sunshine
And a crown in heaven above.

We know your hearts will be gladdened
By the love that is shown you today.
May it be a day of sweet happiness,
This notable tenth day of May.

FOR DELICATE CHILDREN.

A Mother's Letter to Mothers.

Mrs. E. W. Cooper of Bloomfield, N. J., says, "My child, 7 years old, had a bad cold and was weak and quite run down in health. She had been in this condition for about six weeks when I began giving her Vinol. It was a wonderful help to the child, breaking up her cold quickly and building up her strength beside. I have also found Vinol a most excellent tonic for keeping up the children's strength during a siege of whooping cough."

Vinol is a wonderful combination of two world-famed tonics—the medicinal body building elements of cod liver oil and iron for the blood, therefore it is a perfectly safe medicine for children, because it is not a patent medicine, everything in it is printed on every package, so mothers may know what they are giving their little ones.

Therefore we ask every mother of a weak, sickly or ailing child in this vicinity to try Vinol on our guarantee. Orser-Henry Drug Co., Maryville, Mo.—Advertisement.

The height of the walls to plaster caps will be 18 feet above the church floor. The ceiling will be 26 feet 8 inches from the floor. The steeple will have a height of 81 feet above ground level. The basement, 9 feet high, is of concrete, and will have a cement floor. The walls above the water table will be constructed of hard burned Moberly brick, the face brick used being the gray hydraulic pressed brick. The water tables, sills for windows, buttress caps, etc., will be the blue Bedford limestone. The cornice will be of toncan metal and the roof will be slated with the best 19x14 Walter standard galvanized iron shingles. The sacristy and priest's office will be covered with Barrett method gravel roof. The windows in the basement, sacristy and priest's office will have florentine glass, double strength. A special feature will be the church windows. Whilst the outside storm glass will be the ribbed glass 3-16 inches thick, the inside windows will be highly artistic antique figure windows imported from Europe. Since they are to be memorial windows they will be installed as soon as donated.

This new church when finished will be a worthy place of worship and a spiritual and material improvement of which Conception Junction may be justly proud.—Conception Junction Courier.

THE ANGELS ARE HERE.

Angel's Comedians, the company that closed their tenting season here last fall and gave such universal satisfaction, will open their tenting season here in Maryville next Monday night in "Every Woman's Husband." The company have been rehearsing here for the past week. The music will be a big feature with this company same as in the past, and the public can be assured of hearing the late and popular music as well as the descriptive.

Captain McKee will be graduated this spring from the Normal, and will attain a life certificate.

Not only will the hair become soft, fluffy, radiant with life and really doubly beautiful, but all dandruff disappears, falling hair and itching scalp cease—your head feels fine.

FIGHTING AGAINST FATE.

What J. Arthur Dillinger Says On the Above Subject in the Christian Ruralist.

The following is from the Christian Ruralist of Des Moines, Ia., J. Arthur Dillinger being the editor of the paper:

In northwest Missouri are two towns, Maryville and Burlington Junction. Both towns are located in Nodaway county. Maryville is the county seat. It is a town of 6,000. It is full of churches, some ranging from 400 to 1,000 members. They have good buildings and good ministers. A rich farming country surrounds the town. Burlington Junction is the next largest town in the county, having a population of 1,200, and is located fourteen miles northwest of Maryville. It is full of churches. The buildings are modern and good ministers are employed.

Half way between these two towns is Wilcox, a village of a hundred souls. A rich country lies all around the village. The farmers are wealthy, they all have fast driving horses or automobiles.

There are two churches in Wilcox, a Methodist and a Christian church. Each congregation was strong a dozen years ago. Now the Methodists have services once a month and the Christians have no preaching and have not for five years. Old members who used to be the main stays of both churches have died or have moved into the nearby towns of Maryville or Burlington Junction.

There have been no additions to membership in either church to speak of for years. The reason is that on Sunday the young people like to drive to the above named towns where there are larger crowds and better music and an air of work.

It is the same as fighting against fate to maintain church in Wilcox on account of the nearness to the larger churches. The good roads make it possible for most of the people to take advantage of the larger church.

Of course there are a few people who cannot go to the larger places and really need and desire services in Wilcox, but they cannot maintain services because the ones so disposed have not numbers or wealth enough to take care of the work.

It is the story told on every side. The country or village churches within driving distance of the larger towns are dying out. It is the story of the survival of the fittest. It is fighting against fate to maintain services under such conditions. True it is, there is pathos in the fact that the few have the Gospel taken from them, but it is one of the cold facts which stare us in the face and we seem unable to handle the situation. Doubtless you know of similar conditions near you that have gone the way Wilcox has gone.

Taken to His Home.

Ed Curfman, who had his left hand badly mangled while working with a rip saw Tuesday morning, was removed from St. Francis hospital, where he was taken shortly after the accident, to his home Wednesday. The accident, which was a very painful one, resulted in the loss of the little finger and end of the thumb and the other fingers were severely cut.

In Honor of Parents.

Written in honor of the thirty-third wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. James Whitehurst, May 10, 1914, by their son and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Whitehurst, Glen Flora, Texas:

"O what is so rare as a day in June?"
Long since sang a poet true,
But what's a rose to a parent true,
When they belong to you?

Our mother is fair as any rose,
Our father, like a stately pine,
O cast aside your withering rose
And build 'round our parents a shrine.

A rose is sweet and a rose is dear,
But when all its petals are shed
You can gather another and shed no tear

For the one that is withered and dead.
You know in your garden the rose blooms are rare,
That they blush neath 'neath the skies of fair climes,
But we know, you see, that into each life

Comes but two true parents divine.

So here's to the rose, be it pink, white or red,
Wherever in joy it may bloom,
And here's wishing blessings upon the dear heads

Of our thirty-third year bride and groom.

The real estate firm of Holmes & Wolfert closed two important deals yesterday. W. W. Andrews sold his 120-acre farm, two and a half miles southwest of Maryville, to Edward L. Myers, possession to be given October 1 next. Mr. Myers sold his farm of 87 acres, three and a half miles southwest, to Albert Swan, and will give possession next January. The consideration involved in the two deals was $35,500.

ZAPATA TO AWAIT NORTHMEN

Will Not Enter Capital Until City is Occupied by Villa's Force.

El Paso, Tex., May 13.—General Emilio Zapata will not enter Mexico City until the capital shall have been occupied by General Villa's troops and General Carranza, first chief of the constitutional army, shall have established himself at Chapultepec according to a statement by Roberto V. Pesqueira, confidential agent of General Carranza here.

Pesqueira declared that while no definite order had been issued by General Carranza forbidding Zapata to enter Mexico City, there was a definite understanding with the southern leader that he should not march through the streets of the capital before the arrival of his chief.

When informed that anxiety had been expressed regarding reports that Zapata would seize the capital and turn it over to his men to loot at their will, Pesqueira declared that numerous messages had passed between General Carranza and Villa and Zapata and that a thorough understanding had been reached between them.

He said General Zapata had definitely acknowledged Carranza as his chief and had pledged his fealty to the constitutional leader.

According to the constitutional plan of campaign, the divisions of the north and the northeast will converge on Mexico City at the same time Zapata approaches it from the south and will enter the city at the same time with the southern chieftain, if they do not precede him.

20,000 March in Parade of Shriners. Atlanta, May 13.—Dressed in Oriental costumes and headed by the bands of the various temples, 20,000 members of the Mystic Shrine, here for the meeting of the imperial council of the fraternity, marched in the annual night pageant of the order.

STRIKEBREAKERS ARE DEPORTED

Five Placed Aboard Train at Aguilar for Denver.

ARMY CAPTAIN TAKES ACTION

Learns Men Not Employed at Colliery Prior to April 20—Considerable Number of Arms Surrendered at Aguilar. Delivery Slower Elsewhere.

Trinidad, Colo., May 13.—The federal military authorities at Aguilar deported five strikebreakers when they applied for work in the Royal mine. Captain Johnston, in charge at that district, was informed by strikers that the five men were attempting to go to work in the mine and that the strikers objected to their presence there. Captain Johnston ordered the men brought to the military camp and learned from them that they had not worked at the mine prior to April 20, subsequent to which date Colonel Lockett's proclamation prohibited strikebreakers from entering the mines. Captain Johnston ordered the men taken to the Colorado and Southern depot, where they were put aboard a train bound for Denver. Concerning the condition in the Aguilar district, P. E. Quinn, union leader, stated:

"Conditions in that section of the strike zone are probably better than in any other point. Captain Johnston has secured and held the trust and faith of the strikers as well as the operators. The strikers have been treated fairly and that treatment has done more toward inducing the men to surrender their arms than all talking could have done."

Surrender of Guns.

The surrender of guns continued spiritedly, except in the Aguilar district, where a considerable, but undetermined, number has been received.

Peace reigns throughout the southern Colorado strike district, and union officials, mine operators and citizens expressed the opinion that this condition would continue indefinitely. No new orders were received by Colonel Lockett, commanding the forces, from the war department. The matter of passing upon the colonists at Ludlow, the man to be in charge of them, the beginning of possible seizure and search of persons for firearms were the developments which were discussed by the military authorities preparatory for action today.

Court-Martial Convenes.

Denver, May 13.—The general court martial called by Adjutant General Chase, upon the recommendation of the military commission that investigated the Ludlow battle and fire of April 20, convened this morning at the state rifle range, near Golden. The court is authorized to try officers and members of the Colorado national guard upon charges growing out of the clash between militiamen and strikers, as a result of which more than a score of lives were lost. Major Patrick J. Hamrock, the ranking officer at Ludlow on the day of the battle, will be the first to be placed on trial. Fifty-eight counts have been prepared against him by Captain Edward A. Smith, acting judge advocate.

HOUSE TO LIMIT PROGRAM

Remainder of Session to Be Devoted to Anti-Trust Bills.

Washington, May 13.—House Democrats in caucus voted to limit the legislative program for the remainder of this session to anti-trust measures and appropriation bills. Rural credits will go over until next winter.

Of the 330 members who attended the caucus not more than twenty voted against the program. Majority Leader Underwood explained that the work of the session was being curtailed in the hope of an adjournment of congress by July 10. President Wilson had suggested to house leaders who called upon him earlier in the evening that no attempt be made to pass rural credits during the present session.

The caucus voted to have the house devote the next two weeks to consideration of the anti-trust bills—the Covington interstate trade commission bill, the Clayton anti-trust bill and the Reburn measure for federal control of railroads' security issues. Then the appropriation bills are to be taken up. The prohibition and woman suffrage proposed constitutional amendments were not considered on the ground that they were not party measures. The action of the caucus, however, does not preclude their consideration in the house if they are reached after the program as arranged has been disposed of.

Miners to Erect New Tent Colony.

Trinidad, Colo., May 13.—Union leaders in the southern Colorado strike fields began preparations for the erection of a new tent colony at Ludlow. Strikers were engaged in clearing the site of the old colony, which was destroyed by fire, April 20, when twenty-two people were killed.

Woman Convicted of Murder Kills Self

New Orleans, May 13.—Augusta Agnes Edwards, sentenced to life imprisonment for murder, committed suicide in her cell here by swallowing poison after being informed that the supreme court had overruled her petition for a new trial.

THE CITY MOURNS

TRIBUTE OF RESPECT TO MEMORY OF MISS MESSENGER.

WAS AN UNSELFISH LIFE

A Life Lived For Others, Said Rev. Hale—Funeral Services at First Baptist Church.

The funeral services for Miss Marcia Messenger were held Tuesday afternoon at the First Baptist church and were largely attended. Nearly all of the business stores closed during the hour of the service as a tribute of respect to the deceased. The list of these business stores as appeared in Tuesday's daily as closing was incomplete as a number of others suspended business during that time.

The musical part of the service was given by a quartet composed of Miss Marie Jones, Miss Hazel Everhart, G. B. Holmes and Orlo Quinn, who sang three favorite hymns of Miss Messenger's, "It is Well with My Soul," "God Will Take Care of You," and "Rock of Ages," with Miss Alice Porter as organist.

Rev. L. M. Hale, of the First Baptist church, conducted the services. The ministers of the other churches in the city occupied seats on the platform with Rev. Hale.

Rev. Hale read the Twenty-third and Ninety-first Psalms, in accordance with a request of Miss Messenger made shortly before her death. He chose for the subject of his discourse the words from the 10th chapter of Luke, "She hath chosen the better part which shall not be taken away from her."

Rev. Hale said in part:

"I assure you that I have no sermon to preach this afternoon, and I know that I have no message that can in any way express to you what the life that you have known so long and so well means to you. For me to try this afternoon to express my appreciation of Miss Marcia May Messenger could be a futile effort. I have known her comparatively a few months, less than a year, and yet I feel that I have known her as well as I have ever known a friend in my life. There was something from the very first time that I met her that was different, and I remember just as I stood at that door the first Sabbath I was introduced to her as one of our sweetest girls, and I certainly have found it true through the months that I have known her. So much has been said through our papers and I have rejoiced to read what has been said. I think they have brought us great messages. They have spoken words of appreciation that I am not able to speak, and it is not my purpose to take time to make an effort to express my appreciation of a life like the one that has just recently gone out in our midst. That life has spoken for itself and I believe that there is not a man or a woman or child in this community or surrounding country that has not been influenced by the life of Miss Messenger. I look over this audience this afternoon. This audience speaks a most wonderful message. If you could just stand and look into the faces of these people. Maryville is represented here this afternoon. All of Maryville, the poorest, the richest and the humblest homes are represented here. Gathered here to pay tribute of love and respect to the memory of one whom God has taken from us. I think that the life that has been lived among us is itself a message, and if I could just strike the secret of the life and unfold it to you, I believe that it would be the most pleasing thing to Marcia May Messenger. I think she was too unselfish even for a moment to desire that I should stand here this afternoon to eulogize her. Entirely too unselfish, and that is not my purpose. I am not sure that I know the secret of the life that she has lived. I know one thing, and I know it well—that it is one of the most wonderful lives that I have ever known in my life. She was one of the most wonderful characters that I have ever met. Words just simply break down under the weight of what the life she has lived meant to this community. I wish for you pastors this afternoon that it could have been yours to have known her as I have known her. It was mine to be her pastor. Never in all my life have I been the pastor of anyone who has been such an inspiration to me as this one was. I told Mr. Price as I rode from the house to the church with him this afternoon that as I sat in my pulpit I always looked out over the audience to see if she was in the audience; if not I watched to see if Miss Messenger was coming. It seems that I could preach better when she was here. I don't know why it was. I can't explain it, but there was something about her life that for a preacher to stand before his audience to try to preach when she was in the audience, was such an inspiration that we seldom know in a person. It was the greatest joy to meet her on the street. I have watched for her. She was so busy that I felt that I would like to consult her even more than I did. She was one of the greatest counselors that I have ever known in my life. She knew every condition about Maryville and Maryville people, and when you wanted to know about some situation, condition or people you could go to Miss Messenger and come nearer getting the truth than from anyone else.

MARCIA MAY MESSENGER.

If anyone misses her more than her pastor you have my sympathy and my prayers, and yet I know there are some who will.

"I have had the feeling through all of these months that I have known her that her life was directed day by day by the principles and doctrine of Jesus Christ. Some mornings Miss Messenger would get up and would have a hard day's work before her, but she never went about her work until she had stolen some time to read some portion of God's Word to take with her. I wish you might just think of her life just as it has been lived and see if it is not in perfect harmony with the Christ life. She tried to learn of Him and to do His will. If I were to give you one word this afternoon that I think has characterized her life it would be a very common word, very common. Listen to it. That word is unselfishness. I believe if I have ever known a life in my life that has been lived for others it was the life of Marcia May Messenger. As I have watched her, as I have known her, as I have heard people speak, it seems to me that it is all unselfishness. It is the laying down of a life that has been wholly dedicated to the service of God and of this community. If there is anything in her life, as we have known it, that would in any way indicate that she was living for herself I have been unable to discover it.

"Her love was the most Christ-like, I think, of anyone that I have ever known. It was marvelous."

In the County Jail—Funeral at Burlington Junction Thursday—Burial at Shambaugh, Ia.

Leonard W. Huddle, 26 years of age, died at his home two miles south of Burlington Junction, Tuesday evening about 7 o'clock. His death was caused from a blow received on the head while engaged in a fight with Roy Gunn last Sunday afternoon at Burlington Junction.

The two had some trouble about a year ago, when Gunn ceased to work for Huddle, and the quarrel was renewed several times. On Sunday they met again and Huddle accused Gunn of making uncomplimentary references to him. In the fight that followed Gunn struck Huddle over the head with a stool and fractured his skull.

Mr. Huddle is said to have been an industrious young farmer of good habits, and his death is generally deplored.

The funeral services will be held at the Huddle home Thursday morning at 8 o'clock, then the body will be shipped to Shambaugh Ia., where funeral services will be held in the Memorial church, and interment will be made in the Butler cemetery at Shambaugh in the afternoon.

M. Huddle leaves a wife and three children ranging from 6 months to four years in age; father, mother, three sisters and four brothers. His father, Noah Huddle, is a resident of Shambaugh.

Gunn is being held in the county jail pending action of Prosecuting Attorney George Pat Wright, who is attending circuit court at Gallatin. Mr. Wright will return home this evening.

When seen at the county jail this morning, Gunn said that he was very sorry that Huddle died but he refused to talk about the case.

MARCIA MESSENGER.

In the death of Marcia Messenger this community has lost one of the noblest of nature's works. Her's was a character unique in its abundance of those qualities rare in combination. Loyalty, industry, patience, gentleness, cheerfulness and unselfishness are among the qualities with which she was richly endowed.

As an employee of this paper since its organization, we learned to know her under every condition of mind. In her character there were no holidays, no gaudy decorations, no vain parades. It was the same yesterday, today and always.

Her life story might be written in two chapters, cheerfulness and unselfishness. Sustained by an unfaltering trust in her God and with an ever-increasing faith in the ultimate triumph of right and justice, she met the vicissitudes of life bravely and cheerfully, and approached death as a mere incident in the way to a larger and fuller life. Her last words were characteristic of her thought. With full knowledge that the end drew near, she looked not into the dark river in despair, but across it into the eternal city where she saw a glorious immortality and a vision of goodness, purity and everlasting, and exclaimed, "By midnight I will be in Heaven; won't that be great?"

She not only professed but lived Christianity. The spirit of selfishness, to which the world is prone, found no place in her heart. She was truly one of those who preferred "to live in a house by the side of the road and be a friend to man." There have been all too few Marcia Messengers. She bequeathed her own monument in the hearts of men and women, for the sunshine and excellence of her life will live long after the cold marble that may be raised to mark her resting place has crumbled into dust. It may be truly said that the world, and this community in particular, is better for her having lived in it.

Wedding Anniversary.

Mrs. Bert Torrance planned a great surprise for her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Whitehurst, at their home, near Maryville, Sunday, it being their thirty-third wedding anniversary. Several of the neighbors and friends were invited to come and spend the day. They came with well filled baskets of everything possible to be had in the eatable line, cooked by some of the best cooks in the land. The surprise certainly proved to be a grand one. Her parents had not the least thought of such a thing until they noticed people coming to the home in autos, buggies and on foot, and even then they did not understand the reason for so much commotion, until the guests extended to them their heartiest congratulations of the season. The guests presented them with a combination vacuum cleaner and carpet sweeper. Their son, Dale Whitehurst, of the Whitesville Banner, presented them a victrola which he had purchased the day before at St. Joseph. Their son Claude and wife of Texas presented them a set of silverware, and their grandsons in Texas sent Mr. Whitehurst a box of cigars. Their only daughter, Mrs. Torrance, remembering that it was Mother's day, and presented them with a beautiful bouquet of carnations, fresh from the greenhouse. At the noon hour the tables were spread under the shade trees in the yard. The tables fairly groaned under their burden of good things to eat. Blessings were asked by Mr. Ambrose. Everyone ate heartily of the great variety of things which had been placed upon the tables. Music on the victrola and many other pastimes were participated in which served to make the day one of much enjoyment to all. The only thing which marred the day for the bride and groom was the absence of their son Claude and family of Texas. The poetry which follows was composed for the day by them and sent to the parents to be read on that day. The guests departed from the country home of 5 o'clock, wishing Mr. and Mrs. Whitehurst many more such anniversaries. They responded by saying that the day had been one of the happiest for them and one which they would never forget. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Bert Torrance, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Ambrose, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Neal, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Douglas, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Coulter, Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Kidder, Mr. and Mrs. Will Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Heber Mickelson, Misses Lydia Ambrose, Silvia Coulter, Ermile Mickelson, Grace Whitehurst, Virginia Coulter, Messrs. Harry Whitehurst, John Ambrose, Dale Whitehurst, Floyd Ambrose, Rex Kidder, Delbert Ambrose, Walter Fetzer, Jessie Mickelson, Wesley Anderson, Basil Mickelson, and Harry Moyer from Maryville.

Following is the poem written in honor of the event by their son and daughter, Claude and Lucy Whitehurst of Glen Flora, Texas:

The Voicing of a Distant Longing.

We long to be with you, dear parents,
On this, your anniversary day;

But the thousand long miles intervening
Demands that we stay away.

But our hearts and our thoughts will be with you,
Speeding on wings of love,

To wish you a life full of sunshine
And a crown in heaven above.

We know your hearts will be gladdened
By the love that is shown you today.

May it be a day of sweet happiness,
This notable tenth day of May.

By the love that is shown you today.

May it be a day of sweet happiness,
This notable tenth day of May.

FOR DELICATE CHILDREN.

A Mother's Letter to Mothers.

Mrs. E. W. Cooper of Bloomfield, N. J., says: "My child, 7 years old, had a bad cold and was weak and quite run down in health. She had been in this condition for about six weeks when I began giving her Vinol. It was a wonderful help to the child, breaking up her cold quickly and building up her strength beside. I have also found Vinol a most excellent tonic for keeping up the children's strength during a siege of whooping cough."

Vinol is a wonderful combination of two world-famed tonics—the medicinal body building elements of cod liver oil and iron for the blood, therefore it is a perfectly safe medicine for children, because it is not a patent medicine, everything in it is printed on every package, so mothers may know what they are giving their little ones.

Therefore we ask every mother of a weak, sickly or ailing child in this vicinity to try Vinol on our guarantee. Grear-Henry Drug Co., Maryville, Mo.—Advertisement.

Here On a Visit.

Mrs. S. F. Guthrie of Lovel, Okla., arrived in Maryville Tuesday to spend the summer with her daughter, Mrs. John Vert of this city, and her son, Virgil Guthrie, living five miles northwest of Maryville. The Guthries were early settlers of Nodaway county, coming here in 1854 and settling on a farm ten miles northwest of Maryville. They moved to Oklahoma in 1892. Judge Guthrie dying some six years ago. Mrs. Guthrie is now 82 years old and is hale for one of her age. She will be remembered by the old settlers, among whom she had many friends, as the Guthrie home was a stopping place in early days for the traveler before they were any railroads in Nodaway county. May her life be spared many more years.

J. C. Pistole, A. F. Beinert and S. E. Browne of Hopkins were in Maryville Wednesday.

A. M. Colley, of Conception, was a city visitor Wednesday.

TO LAY CORNERSTONE.

Will Celebrate the Occasion May 21 at Conception Junction.

On Ascension Thursday, May 21st, the cornerstone will be laid by Rt. Rev. Abbot Frowin, O. S. B., for the Holy Family church of Conception Junction. The celebration will begin at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. Rev. James Brady of St. Joseph will preach. From 11:30 to 1:30 o'clock on that day the ladies of the new congregation will serve dinner to the visiting people. Ascension day, being a holiday of obligation for Catholics, a large attendance is expected.

The new church will be of the Romanesque style. The plans and specifications have been made by the Rev. Brother Leonard of the Order of St. Francis, of Chicago, Ill., and the contractor is Mr. Anton Zwack of Dubuque, Ia. The contract price of the church is $14,088, exclusive of heating, lighting and church furniture. The auditorium will be 24x66 feet, the sanctuary, with sacristy and priest's office, 31x52 feet, the entire length being 97 feet. The height of the walls to pilaster caps will be 18 feet above the church floor. The ceiling will be 26 feet 8 inches from the floor. The steeple will have a height of 81 feet above ground level. The basement, 9 feet high, is of concrete, and will have a cement floor. The walls above the water table will be constructed of hard burned Moberly brick, the face brick used being the gray hydraulic pressed brick. The water tables, sills for windows, buttress caps, etc., will be the blue Bedford limestone. The cornice will be of toncan metal and the roof will be slated with the best 10x14 Walter standard galvanized iron shingles. The sacristy and priest's office will be covered with Barrett method gravel roof. The windows in the basement, sacristy and priest's office will have florentine glass, double strength. A special feature will be the church windows. Whilst the outside storm glass will be the ribbed glass 3-16 inches thick, the inside windows will be highly artistic antique figure windows imported from Europe. Since they are to be memorial windows they will be installed as soon as donated.

This new church when finished will be a worthy place of worship and a spiritual and material improvement of which Conception Junction may be justly proud.—Conception Junction Courier.

THE ANGELS ARE HERE.

Angell's Comedians, the company that closed their tenting season here last fall and gave such universal satisfaction, will open their tenting season here in Maryville next Monday night in "Every Woman's Husband." This play is claimed by the manager to have never been seen before outside of $1.00 and $1.50 prices. The story of this play ran in the Saturday Evening Post a few months ago. The company this year is much stronger than last season, and Mr. Haderman, the manager, says they will present a line of plays that have never been seen before in this city at popular prices, and a cast that will surprise the show going public. The company have been rehearsing here for the past week. The music will be a big feature with this company same as in the past, and the public can be assured of hearing the late and popular music as well as the descriptive.

Parisian Sage Makes Thin, Lifeless Hair Soft and Abundant.

Beautiful hair, thick, soft, fluffy, lustrous, and free from dandruff, is one of woman's greatest charms, yet so many have streaked, thin and lifeless hair and think there is no remedy. Pretty hair is largely a matter of care.

Not only will the hair become soft, fluffy, radiant with life and really doubly beautiful, but all dandruff disappears, falling hair and itching scalp cease—your head feels fine.

FIGHTING AGAINST FATE.

What J. Arthur Dillinger Says On the Above Subject in the Christian Ruralist.

The following is from the Christian Ruralist of Des Moines, Ia., J. Arthur Dillinger being the editor of the paper:

In northwest Missouri are two towns, Maryville and Burlington Junction. Both towns are located in Nodaway county. Maryville is the county seat. It is a town of 6,000. It is full of churches, some ranging from 400 to 1,000 members. They have good buildings and good ministers. A rich farming country surrounds the town. Burlington Junction is the next largest town in the county, having a population of 1,200, and is located fourteen miles northwest of Maryville. It is full of churches. The buildings are modern and good ministers are employed.

Half way between these two towns is Wilcox, a village of a hundred souls. A rich country lies all around the village. The farmers are wealthy, they all have fast driving horses or automobiles.

There are two churches in Wilcox, a Methodist and a Christian church. Each congregation was strong a dozen years ago. Now the Methodists have services once a month and the Christians have no preaching and have not for five years. Old members who used to be the main stays of both churches have died or have moved into the nearby towns of Maryville or Burlington Junction.

There have been no additions to membership in either church to speak of for years. The reason is that on Sunday the young people like to drive to the above named towns where there are larger crowds and better music and an air of work.

It is the same as fighting against fate to maintain church in Wilcox on account of the nearness to the larger churches. The good roads make it possible for most of the people to take advantage of the larger church.

Of course there are a few people who cannot go to the larger places and really need and desire services in Wilcox, but they cannot maintain services because the ones so disposed have not numbers or wealth enough to take care of the work.

It is the story told on every side. The country or village churches within driving distance of the larger towns are dying out. It is the story of the survival of the fittest. It is fighting against fate to maintain services under such conditions. True it is, there is pathos in the fact that the few have the Gospel taken from them, but it is one of the cold facts which stare us in the face and we seem unable to handle the situation. Doubtless you know of similar conditions near you that have gone the way Wilcox has gone.

WILSON SURE WAR AVERTED

President Thinks Mediation Will Be Ultimately Successful.

PLAN TO ELIMINATE HUERTA.

Establishment of Provisional Government, With Both Factions Represented, Proposed—Constitutionalist Officials Do Not Take Kindly to Plan.

Washington, May 13.—Expressions of confidence that mediation would be successful in averting war between the United States and Mexico came from several members of the cabinet after President Wilson had discussed the situation with his official family.

The president is decidedly hopeful. He is anxious that no untoward incidents or indiscreet acts on the part of any of the forces in Mexico should develop to cloud the horizon when the mediation conferences begin at Niagara Falls next Monday.

Secretary Bryan explained to the three South American mediators in a conference that the lighthouse on Lobos island had not been seized in a military sense, that the keepers were free to come and go, but that the American navy had undertaken to keep the lights burning as a protection to the world's navigation.

Mr. Bryan also told the mediators that the navy and war departments were seeking to learn the facts concerning the arrest of five South Americans accused of "sniping" at American forces during the landing at Vera Cruz, and that a report would be made.

One tense phase of the situation was relieved by the news that J. R. Silliman, vice consul at Saltillo, has been ordered released by the Huerta government.

British Warship to Tampico.

Tampico was under bombardment by the constitutionalists the entire day. Admiral Mayo, commanding the American ships lying off that port, reported that artillery fire had been in progress from 9 o'clock in the morning. Whether federalists or constitutionalists were gaining was not stated. The British government during the day ordered another warship to reinforce the British squadron in Mexican waters, the cruiser Bristol receiving sailing orders for Tampico. The ship carries a crew of nearly 400 men, and its draft would permit it to run up the Panuco river to Tampico and, if necessary, land men to protect British oil wells.

Plan to Eliminate Huerta.

Elimination of General Huerta and the establishment of a provisional government in Mexico, in which both the Huerta and the constitutionalist factions would be represented, is contemplated in a plan which the three South American mediators now are working out to be proposed for the solution of the entire Mexican problem. It was learned that the proposal might be that the setting up of a temporary government be undertaken by a commission composed of five persons, two of them to be named by Huerta, two by the constitutionalists and the fifth by the mediators.

Not Acceptable to Rebels.

El Paso, Tex., May 13.—The plan for the pacification of Mexico now being worked out by the South American mediators and which, it is announced, would eliminate Huerta and establish a provisional government in which both the adherents of Huerta and the constitutionalists would be represented, will not be acceptable to the constitutionalists, according to constitutionalist officials here.

NOT SO BAD AS PAINTED

Huerta's Fondness for Liquor Exaggerated, Says O'Shaughnessy.

Washington, May 13.—Nelson O'Shaughnessy, charge d'affaires of the American embassy at Mexico City, told President Wilson the story of what happened in the Mexican capital during the days immediately preceding and following the occupation of Vera Cruz. He gave him an intimate picture of General Huerta.

The charge advised the president that General Huerta was a very stubborn man and not apt to surrender his position as dictator easily. He expressed the opinion, however, that any government set up in Mexico which has the support of the United States will extend.

After he left the White House Mr. O'Shaughnessy intimated that he believed President Wilson had a broad and firm view of the Mexican question.

It is understood that Mr. O'Shaughnessy's account of General Huerta was such as to strengthen, if possible, the president's determination to force the elimination of the Mexican dictator. He denied, however, that General Huerta was the drunkard that he has been painted in some quarters, and he also told the president he did not believe the Tampico incident had been planned by Huerta to bring about trouble with the United States.

Tampico Bombardment in Progress.
Washington, May 13.—Bombardment of Tampico by constitutionalist artillery still was in progress, according to a relayed wireless report to the navy department from Rear Admiral Badger. German and Dutch cruisers, which had been in the river, withdrew during the day.

In Honor of Parents.

Written in honor of the thirty-third wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. James Whitehurst, May 10, 1914, by their son and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Whitehurst, Glen Flora, Texas: "O what is so rare as a day in June?" Long since sang a poet true, But what's a rose to a parent true, When they belong to you?

Our mother is fair as any rose, Our father, like a stately pine, O cast aside your withering rose And build 'round our parents a shrine.

A rose is sweet and a rose is dear, But when all its petals are shed You can gather another and shed no tear For the one that is withered and dead.

You know in your garden the rose blooms are rife, That they blush neath 'neath the skies of fair climes, But we know, you see, that into each life Comes but two true parents divine.

So here's to the rose, be it pink, white or red, Wherever in Joy it may bloom, And here's wishing blessings upon the dear heads

Of our thirty-third year bride and groom.

The real estate firm of Holmes & Wolfert closed two important deals yesterday. W. W. Andrews sold his 120-acre farm, two and a half miles southwest of Maryville, to Edward L. Myers, possession to be given October 1 next. Mr. Myers sold his farm of 87 acres, three and a half miles southwest, to Albert Swan, and will give possession next January. The consideration involved in the two deals was $35,500.

ZAPATA TO AWAIT NORTHMEN

Will Not Enter Capital Until City is Occupied by Villa's Force.

El Paso, Tex., May 13.—General Emello Zapata will not enter Mexico City until the capital shall have been occupied by General Villa's troops and General Carranza, first chief of the constitutional army, shall have established himself at Chapultepec, according to a statement by Roberto V. Pesqueira, confidential agent of General Carranza here.

Pesqueira declared that while no definite order had been issued by General Carranza forbidding Zapata to enter Mexico City, there was a definite understanding with the southern leader that he should not march through the streets of the capital before the arrival of his chief.

When informed that anxiety had been expressed regarding reports that Zapata would seize the capital and turn it over to his men to loot at their will, Pesqueira declared that numerous messages had passed between General Carranza and Villa and Zapata and that a thorough understanding had been reached between them.

He said General Zapata had definitely acknowledged Carranza as his chief and had pledged his fealty to the constitutional leader.

According to the constitutional plan of campaign, the divisions of the north and the northeast will converge on Mexico City at the same time Zapata approaches it from the south and will enter the city at the same time with the southern chieftain, if they do not precede him.

STRIKEBREAKERS

ARMY CAPTAIN TAKES ACTION

Learns Men Not Employed at Colliery Prior to April 20—Considerable Number of Arms Surrendered at Aguilar. Delivery Slower Elsewhere.

Trinidad, Colo., May 13.—The federal military authorities at Aguilar deported five strikebreakers when they applied for work in the Royal mine. Captain Johnston, in charge at that district, was informed by strikers that the five men were attempting to go to work in the mine and that the strikers objected to their presence there. Captain Johnston ordered the men brought to the military camp and learned from them that they had not worked at the mine prior to April 20, subsequent to which date Colonel Lockett's proclamation prohibited strikebreakers from entering the mines. Captain Johnston ordered the men taken to the Colorado and Southern depot, where they were put aboard a train bound for Denver. Concerning the condition in the Aguilar district, P. E. Quinn, union leader, stated:

"Conditions in that section of the strike zone are probably better than in any other point. Captain Johnston has secured and held the trust and faith of the strikers as well as the operators. The strikers have been treated fairly and that treatment has done more toward inducing the men to surrender their arms than all talking could have done."

Surrender of Guns.

The surrender of guns continued dispiritedly, except in the Aguilar district, where a considerable, but undetermined, number has been received.

Peace reigns throughout the southern Colorado strike district, and union officials, mine operators and citizens expressed the opinion that this condition would continue indefinitely. No new orders were received by Colonel Lockett, commanding the forces, from the war department. The matter of passing upon the colonists at Ludlow the man to be in charge of them, the beginning of possible seizure and search of persons for firearms were the developments which were discussed by the military authorities preparatory for action today.

Court-Martial Convenes.

Denver, May 13.—The general court martial called by Adjutant General Chase, upon the recommendation of the military commission that investigated the Ludlow battle and fire of April 20, convened this morning at the state rifle range, near Golden. The court is authorized to try officers and members of the Colorado national guard upon charges growing out of the clash between militiamen and strikers as a result of which more than a score of lives were lost. Major Patrick J. Hamrock, the ranking officer at Ludlow on the day of the battle, will be the first to be placed on trial. Fifty-eight counts have been prepared against him by Captain Edward A. Smith, acting judge advocate.

HOUSE TO LIMIT PROGRAM

Remainder of Session to Be Devoted to Anti-Trust Bills.

Washington, May 13.—House Democrats in caucus voted to limit the legislative program for the remainder of this session to anti-trust measures and appropriation bills. Rural credits will go over until next winter.

Of the 320 members who attended the caucus not more than twenty voted against the program. Majority Leader Underwood explained that the work of the session was being curtailed in the hope of an adjournment of congress by July 10. President Wilson had suggested to house leaders who called upon him earlier in the evening that no attempt be made to pass rural credits during the present session.

The caucus voted to have the house devote the next two weeks to consideration of the anti-trust bills—the Covington interstate trade commission bill, the Clayton anti-trust bill and the Reburn measure for federal control of railroads' security issues. Then the appropriation bills are to be taken up.

The prohibition and woman suffrage proposed constitutional amendments were not considered on the ground that they were not party measures. The action of the caucus, however, does not preclude their consideration in the house if they are reached after the program as arranged has been disposed of.

Miners to Erect New Tent Colony.

Trinidad, Colo., May 13.—Union leaders in the southern Colorado strike fields began preparations for the erection of a new tent colony at Ludlow. Strikers were engaged in clearing the site of the old colony, which was destroyed by fire, April 20, when twenty-two people were killed.
